“ you do not know me. i go online to look at obituaries sometimes and i must say this one broke my heart. what an adorable little boy. i cant even begin to imagine how you must feel but please know that you will see him again and he will just like you remember him. no, he'll be better than you remember him. as much as it hurts now, its wonderful to know that he'll never have to go through life's heartaches. ive always believed that GOD can see the whole picture and he probably chose to take this one so he would not have to go through a worst time. now, i do not know how he passed away but i'm guessing he was sick. and if he was, he'll never be sick again. you and your family are in my prayers.take care, someone who cares

“ Anthony was in our lives from the beginning to the end, we're so blessed to have enjoyed his pressence in our lives. I always called Anthony "little man" not knowing until after he passed how True of a statement that was. Anthony had more compassion and love for people then I have ever known anyone to have. He will forever be deeply missed by our family. I loved Anthony like he was my own son, even if he did get to kiss everyone of my (his girls) girls. To Mary, Shannon, and Nathen you know were here for you guys and we love you all.

“ Nathan, I am so so sorry to hear about this. I hadn't heard a word. Anthony was the smartest, sweetest and most caring little boy I have ever came across and boy could he swing a baseball bat! I hadn't seen you guys in a few years but have thought about you often. I'll miss "Big Cat" and the times we shared and will cherish the drawings he made for me years ago. I'm glad I got the chance to know such an angel. You and your family will be in my thoughts and prayers~

“ Dear All-

There are no words at this time that can help you understand God's ways. I have been praying for you for strength and comfort to get you through this difficult time. I pray you will cling to your precious memories and know you will see him again. Heaven is sweeter now with his presence. I will continue to pray for you as you face the coming days. You know where I am if you need anything.

“ I remember stopping by Robert and Tabatha's. Anthony was there. When I started to leave, I asked Robby and Ashley for a hug ... and Anthony just walked up and gave me a hug too. I thought that was so sweet.

Your family is in my prayers.

“ Anthony loved life, and he especially loved PE! I was fortunate to be his PE teacher last year. He would bounce in to class each day asking, "Miss Rebecca, what are we going to play today?" He got along well with the other kids in Mrs. George's class and was a precious little guy...full of energy and an infectious smile. My prayers are with his family during this difficult time.

“ Anthony became a precious part of my life two years ago and he will always remain in my heart and in my soul. He brought such a joy to everyone he came in contact with during that time. His hugs could warm the coldest feelings and his laughter could brighten the darkest days. I know that our loss is Heaven's gain and that one day we will see him again.
My thoughts and prayers are with you now and always. Just remember that memories are as precious as life itself.

“ In the two weeks I knew Anthany he was a joy to me. I remember the first time we meet on a monday for BBBS. What a blast we had together; we played Four Square, well I guess it was two square, with only two of us. The second time we meet we played Yahtzee, man did he beat me good, he beat me by at least a hundred and fourty points. I might add that it was his first time ever and he got two yahtzee. Anthany was that type of kid that when you needed a smile he gave to you. During my first visit we were nervous to meet eachother by the time it was time for me to go I didn't want to go anymore, I wanted to play all day. I am very sorry for your lose and in his remembrece I will be writing his initials A.L. on the back of my basketball shoes during this 2004 - 2005 basketball season. I am sorry and I truely loved him and he will be missed
