“ I will miss Mr. Parvin. He was one of the first veterans I met at the VA when I started working here. I will never forget that he asked me for a favor to get him something in the retail store. I said I would help him. He gave me the money and said get you a coke for your trouble. I said I don't need anything. He said get you ooke or you'll have to deal with me. I got a coke.
May the love you had for Mr. Parvin comfort you when you need it most.
