“ I never met Cody, but I feel like I have, sometime in the past. I feel somewhat connected to him, somehow. I don't understand how- but I do.

I have a friend, who knew him, and she told me about what happened. At first, it was a passing glance over an e-mail. "I feel so bad for that family, and his friends". I prayed for them all, and hoped that they would have some peace, with their loss.

Nonetheless, I found his MySpace. I was scanning it over curiosity. I felt so bad. Knowing what this family, and his friends had been through, helped me learn to appreciate my family, and friends, as well. It brought me to a realization, that nothing else could have shown me to.

I send my condolences, to this strong family- whom I have never met. Somehow, their son has made an impact on my life.

“ I am very sorry about your loss. Cody was a fine looking young man and I know he was a good boy. He went home to be with his Lord and you know that he is in good hands. The Lord will take care of you and your family and get you through this. Just lean on the Lord and be closer to him more than you have ever been. He will take care of you.

“ Katie and Dan,

Words cannot express how I feel with the loss of your son Cody. He was always having fun in JAM on Wednesday evenings, but I did not fail to notice the kids he brought with him. Many young men are different because Cody cared and invited them to come and enjoy JAM and meet the Jesus he knew. Know that you and your family are in my prayers and I will miss Cody.

“ I am writing you this letter to extend to you the sympathy from the depths of my heart. I know that I do not understand the pain you're enduring in this trying time, nor can I imagine what it would be like. I want you to know how much Cody was loved by so many Gentry High School Students. I, personally, never knew Cody directly, due to my being a year older than him and we only had one class together. But whether someone knew him personally or not, I can assure you that they did not doubt the fact that he was an all-around good person. He was always joking with everyone and he never failed to make any one person smile.

As you may know, God created every single person for a predetermined reason. I am convinced that Cody fulfilled God's purpose for him to the most. Our school has really pulled together throughout this tragic time, and peoples' eyes have really been opened. I know of atleast two people, one being a very dear friend of mine, who have turned their life around in the way that they accepted Christ into their lives.

You should be so proud of Cody and the life taht he lead. I have been assured that he is in heaven, rejoicing with the angels at this very moment. Cody has influenced many lives and his memory will dwell in our hearts, minds, and souls for all time. God will not betray you during this time. You are being included in many peoples' prayers and God is going to guide you throughout this situation. He's got a specified plan and he's going to make everything work out for you in the end.

In him,

“ Cody, i still really dont believe it.
I keep walking through the halls of the school, believeing in my mind you will sometime soon pop around the corner and scream got ya! But i do not wear a frown upon my face for the death of you. I have greived over the death of a fellow class mate and friend, i believe that you deserve for us to be happy for you. In which i mean, "To every death, there is a new beginning". School will be so different without you next year. I remember us sitting in mr. varvils class first semester singing various songs. Survivor, Baby got back, Stay Alive, among a few others. “ I'm soo sorry that Cody died. When I found out I was in tears myself. I met him when he came to Houma through Erika. Me and Erika are best friends. It was the hardest thing for me to take in knowing that I wouldn't be able to see him this summer. I know how hard I took this and I'm pretty sure ya'll took it just as bad. Just know that ya'll are in my prayers along with Cody that hes ok now and his friends from Gentry that they know that he's in a better place. I know for sure that my memories of Cody will never be forgotten and I will never let them fade. They were the greatest memories anyone could ask for. Cody was the greatest friend anyone could ask for it sucks that he had to go at such a young age, but obviously that's what the man above wanted. I'm crying just typing this because I'm thinking about all of our memories. Once again I'm sorry for your lost and your in my prayers, and if you would like to contact me you can email or call me. “ Our hearts are breaking. We deeply feel your loss, and our prayers are with you and your family. We feel like Cody was a part of our family. Ross will miss taking him camping with the other boys and I will miss the ornery, beautiful smile he would flash when he knew he did something to bug me. That will be my favorite memory. He was the life of our class. The crazy conversations he would start, or the off the wall comments he would make during the lesson, made our 7th and 8th grade class "the place to be" and it was hard for some to leave when it was time to promote. Even Cody would sneak in on Sunday mornings trying to hide among the others. That never worked, but always made us laugh. His prayer, "Don't let the President and troops get shot", was fought over when he was not there and passed down , as something of a "right of passage" when he moved to the 9th and 10th grade class. It will mean so much more now. Everytime someone calls Hunter, "George" it will take me back to that smile. We loved him so much! Please know our prayers of comfort are with you all. Cody will live on in our hearts, and in the heart of our class...today and always.

Love and prayers,

Ross, Tammi, Madi, Hailey, and Hunter ("George")

“Wow...I dunno what to say. Cody was a dear friend to me. My nickname in school is "Magic Man" as they call me. Cody was the rightful spectator of my magic that had named me that, and it stuck, everyone calls me that now, cuz I'm known for my magic tricks. I miss Cody, with every tear that falls. He was a great kid to be around, I've never seen him upset, or mad in any way possible. It was terrifying to hear of his passing. I loved that kid, and I will never forget him. There's not much I can say about how the parents may feel, but if I could just snap my fingers, and POOF! he's there...I would. I miss this Kid. When I was sitting in algebra crying, with cassie in my arms, I remember looking at that empty seat of the front row, where he was supposed to sit. Same thing with the following class. He would sit all hour, and crack jokes about my magic tricks, and even tried to make up a funny/cheesy one. Even though he cracked jokes about my tricks....he always enjoyed them, and was a very good person to do them to. I miss this kid so much I couldn't sleep for 3 days....if I felt this bad....my condolences go out to his family, Specifically his mother....I am sorry. I will Attend the funeral Wed., and I will place my most prized deck of cards in his casket, and remember him the rest of my life.....those cards represent my life, entertainment, and I'm giving them to him. Although.....he deserves a lot more than a few words on a website. I love this kid, and he will not ever be forgotten. My condolences to his family, his mother, and his friends, others among me. “ Cody what can I say. I was so sad and scared when Nick told me you were gone. I cant believe it was just Saturday when we went to the movies. Or wednesday at JAM when we were giving Cheyanne a hard time. I thank you so much for bringing me to the baptist church that one summer morning. Thank you for bringing me to God. I love and miss you and cant wait to see you again someday in heaven. I will miss that smile so much and that famous saying of yours... "your mom". It's only a matter of time unil I see you again. Until then have the time of your life making people laugh in heaven.

With love,

“ There is just no way to express how much we will miss Cody. Our Cody and your Cody have such close friends for so long that he often felt like family. Goodwin as we called him made us laugh each and every time we saw or talked to him. He was so full of mischief, but it was so hard to get after him for it. We will never forget how much he loved and cared for our Cody. They loved talking about hunting and fishing. And though he was always pulling pranks and telling jokes there was one thing he was very serious about and that was loving Jesus. He wanted all of his friends to know him too. Goodwin will be missed, but he will live on in the great memories of those who loved him.

“ To Aunt Katy and other family-
Cody was my cousin and my best friend. He was a beautiful person with a good heart. There was never a dull moment when in the presence of Cody Goodwin. We shared so many fond memories together. He was loved by so many, including myself. He will be missed. It is going to be difficult to live the rest of my life without him, but because I know that he is with the lord it eases my sadness knowing that he is finally at rest. It would be selfish of me to wish that he was still in this world full of pain and suffering. Although it is very painful to go on, it is what Cody would have wanted. We must all keep in mind that one day we will see him again and will be with him for all eternity rejoicing our father in heaven. My heart goes out to all the rest of Cody's friends and relatives. I will be sure to keep everyone in my thoughts and prayers.

May God bless you all!

All my love,

Alex

“ Our hearts became heavy as we heard your sad news. His appointment with God came at an unexpected time and no words can take your pain away. Cody would brighten the room with his smile and his sometimes not so funny jokes. We will miss him dearly.

“ We are so very sorry to hear of your loss. We will pray for your family: for a sense of peace, understanding, strength and stamina to endure what you will have to go through these next few days, and indeed, years to come. May the Holy Spirit comfort you at this time and draw you near to the Father, who will sustain you through this trial. We know that there are no words that can conquer the grief you feel at this time, so we will continue to pray for you all, immediate and extended families. He will remain in our hearts and memories. Love in Him, Rachel and Family

“ What words can express the pain in our hearts of knowing Cody has gone from us? He will be missed because he was loved. His death reminds us of the frailty of life. Life is but a vapor. We all have a short time here on earth. Please know that God knows how you feel. He too lost His only Son. How painful it is. But HE had to die, be buried, and rise again to give life to all who would ever trust in Him for eternal life, of which Cody had apparently received by God's grace. Give God the praise and glory. To be absent from the body is to be at home with the Lord (2 Cor 5:8). We love y'all. We pray that you would be comforted by God's grace in this difficult time. Love, Chris, Hayley, Brayden, Isaiah, Grace and Daniel.
