“ We moved across the street from Dora nine years ago and were so blessed to have her as a neighbor. She was always willing to take care of our cats when we were gone, always had a smile and a kind word, and was a special lady. She was a Godly woman who rejoiced with us in happy times and mourned with us in sad times. It was a constant comfort to me to see her going about her regular routines, especially her daily walks with her dog. We have missed her every day since she had to leave her house but are thankful that she is in a better place now with our Lord. Dora touched our lives, and we are the better for it.

“ August 7, 2007
I knew Dora during the late 90's She and Vivian Stockton helped me out with my housekeeping. (Elderly man living alone in a big house with cats and dogs.)
I came to know her quite well and enjoyed her company.
When she went back to England I was not aware that she had come back here.
It was a shock when I learned that she was dying.
If it is any comfort to you, know that many people here are grieving her.
