“ Emma Kay (as she was called when we were young) grew up together in Siloam Springs. Our mothers were best friends and we could often be found listening to her collection of 45 records. We both "escaped" to California and were best friends when I was in nursing school. She was a good listener and we spent a lot of time together. She will be missed by many. Rest in peace.

“ Emma Kay was not only my cousin, but also my dear friend. Living so far away, we didn't see each other too often, but spent hours on the phone sharing life & experiences--happy, sad, problematic, family stories, ancestors, the past, religion, politics & everything in between. We often would talk for hours. She was always smart, capable, insightful, funny, & a good listener; and she was not shy to share something you needed to hear. She was my Dear Friend & I will sorely miss her.
