“ Thank you for jogging the memories I have of James Taylor. While working at Brentex (Brand Rex) during lunch we would get him started talking about anything, and before we knew it, we would talk for hours
I also remember he made the canes and Christmas wreaths from twigs.

“ How my dad loved the walking stick that Mr. Taylor made! He used it often as he hiked the parks and lakes near his home. That same walking stick sits by my back door every day and I admire it's beauty and craftsmanship every time I see it. Mr. Taylor has quite a legacy left behind in just the canes, walking sticks, and hiking sticks he crafter through the years! God Bless your family and may he grant you all peace and comfort for the days ahead.
