“ Our heartfelt condolences to Cathy and all Jeff's family and loved ones. Today Jeff, you make your final journey for your 'angel wings'. God Speed ~ You were a gift to everyone who's lives you touched. We will miss you while watching Gold Rush, Seeing a new rocket ship launch off to space, following sled dog races, weather alerts to 'Hunker Down', but mostly your incredible kindness, friendship, smile, devotion to your beloved Cathy & your families and love you shared with everyone who was blessed to know you. Here's a candle to light your way.

“ Jeff was such a sweet and cute kid. He and my Daughter, Tammy were good friends and in the same class at school. I have known Lonnie, His Dad, for years. we just lived a jump from each other growing up. And I also knew Liz. But, with that being said, Lonnie and Family, you have my Love and prayers. Your Jeff was a precious young man. Look back at all the good memories of your precious Son, And, may you have peace and comfort at this very sad time, I told my Daughter this morning that Jeff was a little guy growing up and I always thought He was so cute. God Bless you all! Your Friend, Patty {(Holt) Boyle

“ Jeff was a funny guy sometimes when he let it out. He was always a quiet student who did his work. He never really gave me any trouble in class. He had a quick smile and he helped hold the class together. This is really a sad time for family and I know you will share stories of all the good times together.

“ My prayers and deepest sympathy and condolences to the family of Jeff. We grew up very close and as a neighbor, and stayed in touch with such a beautiful light over the many years since those youthful days. He was always a beautiful and positive spirit to share stories with. There are so many great memories, but to share one that spoke to the positive character Jeff was.... We had typing class together, and Jeff had both arms broken with a bar in between his casts from a four wheeler accident. I was just informed in front of the class that I was the slowest typist, and my teacher made it to point out even Jeff was faster than my test. Jeff made it a point to catch up after class and tell me his cast positioned his hands just right on the keys to type faster. That was Jeff. Always the first to say something positive and kind in every circumstance. You will be truly missed, and never forgotten. Rest High, Jeff.
