“ I met Jeri many years ago when she worked at Twigg's grocery in Gentry. My husband and I had just moved to the area, he worked nights and slept in the daytime. I was so lonely as I knew on one in Gentry. I use to go to the store just to see Jeri and have someone to talk to. She was so friendly and helped to brighten my days of loneliness. We kept in touch through the years and I saw her not to long ago in Walmart and we chatted as we use to long ago. She was such a special person and I am thankful that God made our paths to cross in this life. Praying for God's comfort and His abiding presence as you go through this difficult time.
Blessings to all her family,

“ Jeri was one of the kindest, sweetest, most accepting person in the world. No matter what was happening, she was a tower of strength and goodness. One could laugh with her or cry with her and know she was always there. We had the priviledge of celebrating many special occassions with her through our extended family. We were so blessed. Fly high sweet angel!
