“ I am so sorry to have heard of Aunt Jessie's death. She meant the world to me and I loved her dearly. My fond memories of going to her house for Memorial day was special to me. I didn't get to come, just went through my own mother's death and I didn't think I could handle it well. I am taking care of my dad now too. I love all of you even though we don't get to see each other, God Bless and take care...

“ I regret not being able to be at the funeral to pay my respects to the famly. But i believe that the only footprint made on this earth is by whose lives you touch. My memories go back to stoping with Bob Cowden in the early50's to see his good friends Hugh & Jesse. if granddad thought they were special then so did I. And I found out on my own he was right.
