“ To the Peden family, and because of our dad, Bryan will always be known to us as “the kid”. He struck up a friendship with our father and as Dad’s health was failing, Bryan was always there to help out. After Dad passed, Mom took comfort in knowing Bryan and Susan were always looking after her. Bryan carried off more trapped raccoons than we could count. Even though most of us live in the Tulsa area, we came to know Bryan well. He spent much time visiting with Dad. Bryan will be missed, because good people are always missed when they’re not around. However, we know where he is, and I’m sure my father and “the kid” are having a great time catching up. Our hope and comfort is the fact we will soon join them. Susan and family — know you are in our prayers. “God is near to the broken-hearted. “

“ Words can't express our feelings.... We will miss you so very much! Our hearts go out to Susan and all of your family and friends for their loss. How Blessed they were to be a part of your family and know you day to day! You never knew a stranger. We are better for having had you in our lives! You were a "Giant among Men", not only in stature, but in character. The world is a better place because of you! You left your mark on many so that they are inspired to carry on the torch of taking care of their families and fellow men as you did. You lived a Christian life and let your light shine for all to see so that God could be Glorified in His creation. "Well done Good and Faithful Servant." We Love You! Thanks for all the wonderful memories!

“ Bryan came into our lives when he married our dear sister, Susan (who became part of our family when she befriended one of our siblings in high school and never, in the decades that followed, left the home she made in our hearts). It was going to be a tall order to fill to find a man good enough for our Susan, someone who would treat her right, someone who was smart, kind, and could make her laugh. Needless to say, Bryan Morrison was a man more than tall enough to fit the bill. You might be thinking I am referring to his physical size. You'd be wrong. Bryan was more than tall enough in virtues that make a man a real man...compassion, generosity, understanding, patience, intelligence, common sense, and a great sense of humor.

I realize I only knew Bryan in bits and pieces when I visited my sister. However, I still remember his kindness and gentleness to me when I visited them after my divorce. He spoke softly to me simple words of encouragement and faith. I was so touched that he took the time to reach out to me, even with just a sentence or two...I'm grateful to God for having met Bryan Morrison.

“ Bryan Morrison will be missed dearly for the humor he brought to every social gathering, for the love he shared daily to anyone in need with a servants heart, and for the guardian of goodness he always carried daily. I saw him as a super human man. He showed me how a man was supposed to be when I was a child. When I was bad he was direct but fair, and always made sure I was ok in the worst or best of times. He was more than a man, he was angel walking this earth.

I hope I'm half the man he ever taught me to be. I'm honored to be his step-son everyday. Growing up was always an adventure knowing this gentle giant always had my back and he always was straight forward and insightful. I questioned everything in life and always wanted to know more directly bc he never answered with a dismissive answer of just because....there was always a kindness and knowledge to his answers.

The greatest lessons I learned is humor above all and that simply "discretion is the better part of chivalry". The man I grew up with being my guide in life will never leave me because he took the time every day to be in my life.

I love you Bryan. Thank you.
