He graduated from Bentonville High School with a perfect attendance record, never having missed a day since the seventh grade. Kevin was awarded a full scholarship to the University of Arkansas but chose instead to pursue a degree in Computer Aided Drafting and Design from the Phoenix Institute of Technology. Despite the significant health challenges he faced, including a severe episode in 2010 that left him with Metabolic Encephalopathy, Kevin remained steadfast in his faith and hope for healing.

In his final days, Kevin experienced a series of unfortunate events that led to his hospitalization. As his condition worsened, he passed away on Monday morning at 1:36 a.m., marking the end of his long struggle with diabetes.
