“ Too many memories to post just one. He taught me almost everything I know about the outdoors. He never failed to fascinate me one way or another. He was like a brother to me and we had so many fun times. I'll miss you brother

“ I first met Lance at a Halloween party at Jeffs, so it all started way back then. When he moved to Kenwood Lance and the rest of my family became very close friends my Uncle Joe and Lance became runnin buddies, which I never would have thought. I got so many memories I don't know where to start from fishing to hunting even in the garden. We always made sure the other never ran out .22 or .22 mag shells. The time we shared was priceless from twisted jokes to just listening to the critters in the woods or watching sun rise or set on Eucha. Kenwood will never be the same.
Thank you for sharing so much of your life with me, you will be dearly missed my friend.

“ Lance was not only my first cousin, we had a deep connection to our very souls. We had the same sense of humor and would often make each other laugh so hard, the tears and pains in our sides would shut us up, but not for long, because his laugh was infectious, and I couldn't get enough of it. His nickname among our mutual friends, and his contact name in my phone was Sir Lafsalot, and I thought it suited him perfectly. Many people said we even looked alot alike. Which I always took as a compliment, because he was a beautiful person, and noone who knew him would argue that. I know theres one less person in the world who loves me because he never failed to tell me so every time we left each other or hung up the phone. I cant express how much I will miss my friend and my other big brother. I love you too Lafsalot.

“ Lance " Sir Laughs a lot " Harrington!
You are the Best Friend anyone could ask for! You have taught us so much about hunting and fishing and cooking and everything! You have the best laugh of anyone I know! You lived life to the fullest! You loved you dogs with all your heart! They were not animals to you, they were your kids! We were so lucky to have you in our lives and the kids are going to miss their Uncle Lance but you will never be forgotten, Ever! We will forever tell story after story about you and you will be in our hearts forever!
You have such a big heart! Even when you were down you would still cheer anyone up! We have had some of the best times together cooking and hanging out more than ever! Every time I think of you I always smile because you are one funny dude! I will miss being able to call you and get your advise on whatever was on my mind as I am drinking my cocoa and having toast. I know you loved cocoa and toast too! We had a whole conversation about how mom always made that for you and so did mine. You were the first person Jeff and I told that we were going to have a baby and you threw your hat on the floor, teared up and hugged us both at the same time. It was more of a really tight squeeze! That was a great moment!
I could go on and on with story after story but really the one thing I want to say to you my big brother is that I Love You with All My Heart and you will truly be missed so much from your little sis and your brother from another mother.
Until we meet again! Hugs and Kisses!
