“ To My Grandma:

*They say God needs special angels at times
If this is the case, then why he chose my grandma is no surprise
Sometimes I still can't believe it's true
The sky's the same, just a little less blue Though colors have faded and time passes on I miss you more and more everyday that you're gone
I always think of the times that we had
They were ALWAYS good, NEVER bad
From shopping trips, vacations and roller coaster rides
You were the BEST grandma any grandchild could have by their side
It used to always make me laugh when it came to your hair
Sometimes in life, it seemed to be one of your only cares
A can of hairspray is what you used to use
It's a MIRACLE that none of us have to have permanent breathing tubes
The wind would blow you hair in every which direction
And then we would you hear you complain about how it was no longer perfection
Perfect or not to you, it was always perfect to me
Then again
How could it not be?
You were my Meme!
You taught me what's important in life and showed me endless love You taught me when to "hold on to" and when "to let go of"
You were one of the few people that I trusted in my life
So you can imagine the of pain of losing you was way worse than any knife
I never got to tell you
But I hope somehow you knew How TRULY blessed and proud I am to have a grandma like you.*

“ My Mother, My Angel

*Once upon a time an angel held my hand
 She wiped away my tears and helped me understand
 Our time on earth is brief--there's lessons to be learned
 Each precious day God gives us, another page is turned Every chapter full of memories, times of joy and tears
 Triumphs and defeats through every passing year
 She loved us unconditionally, always by our side
 When no one else would listen, in her we could confide
 With gentle words of wisdom, she led us on our way Down the paths of righteousness if ever we did stray
 She the light in everyone and gave with no regrets Always from her heart, let's not forget
 Angels come in many forms--for me it was my mother
 With love I cannot say in words, there'll never be another
 Every day I turn the page, in my heart will remain Everything she taught me, as I stroll down memory lane
 Thank you God for giving me the most priceless of all treasures
 Help me Lord to keep aliver her memory here forever
 I pray that I can some day be everything she hoped I would That she's smiling down from heaven, knowing that she did good
 As we gather here today, there's no ending to her story
 Another chapter has begun, full of grace and glory
 God's called her to His heavenly home--part of His great plan
 Although it may be hard, we all must understand Faith is what is hoped for, things we cannot see Heaven is promised to all of us, if only we believe.*

*One year ago today, sweet Momma, I had to say "goodbye for now".
 As I sat in the ICU holding your hand, the nurse in me knew what the doctor was saying was true---but, the daughter in me just wasn't ready. My heart shattered when I had to let go of your hand and* walk out of the hospital without you----I felt like I was abandoning you. Maybe one of these days, I will get past the guilt. But, you had one last selfless act to perform as your wishes were honored and you became a donor. You were my world, my heart, my inspiration, my best friend and role model. You loved unconditionally and gave selflessly. How I pray I am the daughter you hoped I would be. Maybe one of these days I will get past the guilt of feeling like I failed you. The nurse in me feels like I missed something. If that is true, then I pray you will forgive me. To know that I had hurt you would be more than I could bare. This last year has been so hard.....we all miss you so very much.....but, I truly cherish every precious moment we had together. I thank God everyday that He blessed me with you as my Mom. You are forever in my heart and I will always miss you.....you were gone way too soon.....there were so many more places for us to go and things for us to do!! My heart breaks at the thought that your precious grandbabies won't get to grow up with you in their lives.....what a precious gift they were robbed of. We will all make sure they never forget what an amazingly wonderful wife/Mom/Meme you were. Rest in peace sweet one, until we are together again. I love you Momma!

“ *Those we love don't go away,
They walk beside us every day,
Unseen, unheard, but always near,
Still loved, still missed and very dear.*

9 months, sweet Momma, since God took you home. How I miss you!!!!!! Life will just never be the same without you.....my sweet, precious Momma.....my best friend! There are so many things I need to talk to you about.....there are so many things you're missing. If only I could just sit with you a while, talk to you, get a hug, hear you say "it'll be ok", get a kiss on the cheek.....and what I wouldn't give to hear you say once more "I love you sweetheart". You are so missed, so very dear and will always be forever loved! I love you sweet one!

“ I am sending a dove to heaven,
With a parcel on it's wings,
Be careful when you open it,
It's full of beautiful things.

Inside are a million kisses,
Wrapped up in a million hugs,
To say how much I miss you,
And to send you all my love.

I hold you close within my heart,
And there you will remain,
To walk with me throughout my life,
Until we meet again.

8 months ago today, sweet Momma, God took you home. I still can hardly think about that day without my heart shattering into a million pieces. It still doesn't seem real that I can't call and talk to you or that we can't have lunch or go shopping. So many little things remind me of you. It doesn't take much before the tears flow non-stop. I knew the day would come and I knew it would be hard, but never in a million years did I realize just how hard it would be. There are so many things you are missing here on earth, but I'm sure heaven is so much better. Until I see you again, please know just how much you are missed and loved. I love you sweet one!

“ We are the rememberers,
The people left behind,
To keep the one who's gone from us,
Alive in heart and mind,
The people left to cherish,
And preserve a legacy,
Yes, we are the rememberers,
And we will always be!

*7 months sweet Momma.....still so hard to believe! You left behind such a huge legacy! I will always treasure and cherish every moment spent with you. It's still heart wrenching to think our time on earth is done, but each day leads me one day closer to seeing you again. I will make sure your precious grandbabies and your "Princess" Natalie never forget you and what an amazingly wonderful person you were. We were so blessed to have you and have suffered a huge loss at losing you. Our heartbreak is heaven's gain! I love you sweet Momma.....you are forever in my heart!

“ They say there is a reason,
They say that time will heal,
But neither time nor reason,
Will change the way I feel.

*For no one knows the heartache,
That lies behind my smiles,
No one knows how many times,
I have broken down and cried.*

*I want to tell you something,
So there won't be any doubt,
You're so wonderful to think of,
But so hard to be without.*

*6 months ago today, sweet Momma, we kissed you goodbye. Everyone keeps telling me it will get easier with time.....maybe some day, but I'm not so sure. I miss your smile, your sweet spirit, your sense of humor, your hugs/kisses, spending time with you, eating out, shopping, flea marketing, traveling, hearing you sing, but most of all I miss hearing you say "I love you". So many things I wish I could talk to you about. The holidays were so difficult.....it just wasn't the same without your being there. Even the New Year was hard, as much as I looked forward to 2013 ending, because of the heart wrenching pain it brought, in a way I hated to step into 2014. It seemed like I was leaving you behind somehow. I couldn't help but think of you watching your "vacation" movies though....your yearly tradition. I hate knowing that your precious grandbabies will grow up without you.....such a huge loss for them, it breaks my heart to know that they won't get to experience just what an amazingly wonderful person you were. It just seems so unfair.....you were so young, had so much to live for, so much you were looking forward too. I miss you so very much. Love you Momma!

“ *It's Christmas time and ever since
The day you were taken
The lovely memories you've left
Have never been forsaken.*

*They'll always stay as vivid
Just as though you were still here
And especially are cherished
At this special time of year.*

*There's never a day goes by Without joyful thoughts of you
For no one could bring happiness
In the way you used to do.*

5 months ago today, sweet Momma, God took you home. It's still so hard to believe. Thanksgiving was so hard without you and Christmas will be just as difficult. You were supposed to come to my house this year. I was so looking forward to decorating and cooking for you all. My heart still hurts as if we had just lost you yesterday. Everyone keeps telling me it will get easier.....I'm not so sure. I thank God everyday that He blessed me with such an amazingly wonderful Mom.....I couldn't have asked for better. Thank you Mom for loving us unconditionally and being the greatest role model one could ask for. I constantly hear stories about how you touched someone's life by just listening, offering advice, being a friend, being the first to welcome them, etc. I honestly don't think that you ever realized what an impact you had on people over your lifetime. I am so proud to be your daughter and hope that I can be even a fourth of the precious person that you were. We sent you balloons on Thanksgiving Mom. I pray God opened up the floors of heaven and let you see just how loved and missed you are. I keep trying to remind myself that every day that goes by is one more day closer to seeing you. Until then, know that I will love and miss you forever and always. I love you Momma!!!! XOXO

“ You never said I'm leaving,
You never said goodbye,
You were gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why.

A million times I've needed you,
A million times I've cried,
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.

In life I loved you dearly,
In death I love you still,
In my heart I hold a place,
That only you can fill.

It's so hard to believe sweet Momma that you have been gone 4 months. It still hurts like it was yesterday. I think back to the Saturday we went to see the Lion King, I can still see you waving as you and Dad drove away. If only I had known that would be the last time I would see you. When I talked to you that Tuesday evening, I never in a million years thought it would be the last conversation we would have or that it would be the last time I heard you say "I love you". My heart breaks at the thought that our time on earth is through. I know I'll see you again, but that time seems so far away. I miss you so much. I love you Momma, forever and always.

“ *It's a special bond that spans the years. Through laughter, worry, smiles and tears. A sense of trust that can't be broken, a depth of love sometimes unspoken. “ Somewhere in my heart, beneath all my grief and pain,
Is a smile I still wear at the sound of your dear name.

The precious word is "Mother", she was my world you see,
But now my heart is breaking cause she's no longer here with me.
God chose her for His angel, to watch me from above,
To guide me and advise me and know that I'm still loved.
The day she had to leave me, when her life on earth was through,
God had better plans for her, for this I surely knew.
When I think of her kind heart and all those loving years,
My memories surround me and I can't hold back the tears.
She truly was my best friend, someone I could confide in,
She always had a tender touch and a warm and gentle grin.
I want to thank you Mom, for teaching me so well,
And though the time has come that I must bid you farewell,
I'll remember all you've taught me and make you proud you'll see,
Thank you my precious mother for all the loved you've shown me.
Although you've left this earth and now you've taken flight,
I know that you are here with me each morning, noon and night.
I hope I've made you proud,
For there will never be another,
Cause there is no love greater,
Than a child has for their Mother.

“ We litte knew that morning,
That God would call your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
You did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
You left us peaceful memories,
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you,
You are always by our side.
Our family chain is broken,
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by one,
The chain will link again.

It's so hard to believe, sweet Momma, that it's been 2 months since we lost you. Everyone keeps saying it gets easier with time.....I'm not so sure.....some days it seems to be getting harder. It's so hard to think that I'll never spend another moment on this earth with you.....talking/going out to eat/shopping/flea marketing/traveling, etc.....it's even harder still to know that I'll never hear you say "I love you sweetheart" again. If only I could just sit with you for a while.....give you one more hug/kiss.....tell you how much you meant to me.....tell you how much I've always loved you.....tell you how sorry I am that I ever failed you.....tell you THANK YOU for being such an amazingly wonderful Mom. So many people have told me what a wonderfully sweet person you always were: how you were the first friend they made, the first to speak to them/welcome them to a new job, how you were always accepting of them, how you loved them like your own, what a role model you were.....how proud I am to have a Mom that has made such a HUGE impact on everyone she has crossed paths with. I can only pray you knew just how loved you were. I thank God everday that He blessed me with you.....I couldn't have asked for anyone better. How I treasure every moment we ever had, and how I look forward to seeing you again.....knowing that the next time I see you, we'll be together forever. Until then, rest in peace my precious Momma and know that I will love you forever and always.

“ You can see it in their eyes,
In tender hugs & long goodbyes,
A love that only Moms & Daughters know.

You can see it in their smiles,
Through passing years & changing styles,
A friendship that continually seems to grow.

You can see it in their lives,
The joy each on of them derives,
In just knowing that the other one is there.

To care & to understand,

And to celebrate the memories they share.

Missing you swee Momma. Love you!

“ My sweet precious Momma, we were so blessed to have had the pleasure to call you Mom, Meme and Wife (or "Babe" as Dad preferred to call you). We loved you dearly and will miss you terribly. Our hearts have been shattered and a huge void is now where you once were. We lost you way too soon. I hope God opened up the floors of Heaven and let you see just how much you were loved and will be missed. We played your Gaithers for you and I know you're enjoying the show in Heaven. I can just see you dancing on those streets of gold. I used to get so tickled at how you would name everyone on the show and tell me whether they were dead or alive. My sweet Momma, you were my best friend, the one I could always talk too and confide in. I will miss our vacations (some of my best memories are our travels together), you were always ready for our next trip. I'll miss talking to you, your sense of humor, your smile, your sweet spirit.....but most of all, I'll miss hearing your sweet voice say "love you sweetheart". I don't know what I'm going to do without you sweet Momma.....I feel so lost. I hope you knew just how much I loved you....more than life itself. You will always and forever be in my heart. Rest in peace my sweet precious Momma until we meet again.....please promise me you'll be the first in line at the gate to greet me. I love you forever sweet one.
