Sue

With all respect I came by today as I past through Siloam.(Remembering how you would race past me in your Charger, and I never stood a chance to catch you;)I stopped in to say good bye very breifly, as I signed your book, I whispered in your direction See you later friend. I didn't go any farther than the book, because I know you wouldn't have wanted that. I love talking about our our girls as they were getting close to prom and graduation and how proud you are of Hayley and you let her color your hair, and how smart the twins were. The thought about leaving you a Dr. Pepper while I was there briefly, but I didn't. Thank You for always being so nice and kind. Job well done Mo!

“ I worked with Sue Martin at Tyson's Foods on Berry St In Springdale Ar. She was a very kind and sweet lady. She was nice to everyone around her. She always greeted me with a smile and a hello everyday when i arrived for work. She would always say "Mike are you ready?" I would say "let's go Sue and get this over with.". She was a hard worker always dependable. She never missed work. On our breaks she would always Compliment me on my cooking skills. Mike what did you cook today? She loved her family so much. Everyday like clockwork she would go to her car and call her daughters or husband to check on them. She told me her husband Lewis bought him a toy drone and that he loved to fly it like a little kid. Her sudden passing came as a shock and it shows how precious life is. I last saw her on Wenesday June 8 at the end of our shift sitting at the table. She said Mike i see you tomorrow and i said ok Sue don't get a ticket going home. She loved her fast Dodge Charger. My deepest sympathy goes out to the family in your time of grief. She was a great person with such a warm and loving heart. Cherish all your great memories you had with A mother, daughter, sister, grandmother and loving wife. God bless you Modena "Sue" Faye Martin. You were one of the nicest person i ever met and you will be truely missed. It was a pleasure to have known you.
