“ Little Nancy...what is left to say? You were such an inspiration, with a wonderful attitude about everything. A wonderful lady with so many talents and joys. I knew the day I met her that she was something special, and I was reminded everytime we visited. I will miss you so much. With much love, Reggie

“ In the beginning of my life my grandma Nancy was traveling to all these interesting places in their travel trailer. I remember Grandma Nancy and Ferrell stopping in Pampa to see us on their way to their next destination. I always thought it was so cool that they could just be living all over the country. I was fortunate to get to know how strong and caring she was when she lived next door to me while I was in high school. She always supported me in whatever I would decide and loved all of us grandchildren very much. I will miss her greatly.

“ Dearest Mom, we miss you badly. It's a shame that you had to occupy that sick body of yours for so long before leaving this world. You fought the good fight and YOU decided when you would leave. That's our Mom. Kind, caring, thoughtful and gracious. What a pleasure it's been to know you and to have you raise us kids. You were just as graceful leaving this world as you were living in it. It was tough deleting your name off of my instant messenger and from my cell phone. That kind of made it all sink in that you weren't here in body anymore. But now, talking with you is so much easier, all it takes is a thought, or taking a breath, or just feeling our hearts beat. We know that you are with us, still concerned about us as usual. Always putting us first. Rest in peace sweet lady, 'til we meet again. Love Jeff

“ I have fond memories from our years together at Flint Ridge. She is now walking with the saints in heaven and waiting for us to join them. I'm happy for her to have her new body and is enjoying that mansion that is her reward.

“ I remember the pita bread sandwiches too! They were so good. I have lots of good memories of Grandma Nancy. It is hard to believe she is gone. I am glad we lived close to each other when I was a teenager. She was right there with me when my first daughter was born and I got to wear the wedding dress she made with her very own hands. What an amazing dress! I still have the dolls she made me and my sister when we were kids. I am glad I have these things to remember her by. When I made mistakes throughout my life she stuck by me, had faith in me and encouraged me. I love her so much.

“ As a child when I would visit her with my siblings in Pampa, Texas, her home always seemed a welcome place. I knew her closest then I think. She showed me how to crochet, as she was a wonderful seamstress. She would make us pita bread sandwiches and we'd sit at her bar thinking we were so big. She seemed such a "cool" grandmother, riding motorcycles and traveling to places exotic to myself, such as Florida. For many years I did not see her nearly as much. When I did see her, I was treated only with kindness and caring. I was saddened by her illnesses, and inspired by her strength and stubbornness to overcome any disability. Grandma Nancy was full of joy and enjoyed life at every opportunity. I loved her and will miss her.

“ my dear mother, how do I say goodbye? You have always been there for me in the bad times and good to lift me up to carry on, or to share the fun and joy. You fought so hard to live and never complained about your treatments, you carried on and took care of your home and husband and worried about us kids even when your energy was almost gone. What an example you were to us of selflessness, strength and grace. I know you are celebrating a wonderful Christmas with grandma and grandpa, uncle Jimmy and Aunt Mickey in heaven and you have no more pain or suffering from your cancer, or your stroke. For that I am thankful. I will always miss you, my mother, my best girlfriend.

“ When i first met Nancy she was visiting her mother Millie Brown, driving many miles to visit her, which she did often. Then Millie became very ill and Nancy and Ferrel were here quite often, driving many miles each time. She stayed and gave her mother strength and love until towards the end. We have become very fond of Nancy and her family. She will be missed by so many people. we will miss her very much.
