“ Annie, I always wanted to meet you. I'm sorry that it turned out differently. I also wanted to meet your children, Judy's grandchildren whom she never got to meet either. Chelsea, Myrcadies, Bodhi and Lyrick... I am truly sorry that we never got to meet long ago. I am sorry for the loss of your mom and know that each of you were very close. Remember that God loves each of you and will get you through any circumstance, even the loss of a loved one. You are each in our prayers..... Tim

“ I am sorry to hear about your loss. The time will come very soon when sickness and death will be a thing of the past. This promise is found in God's word the Bible. Isa. 25:8, 9: ?He will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces. . . . And in that day one will certainly say: ?Look! This is our God. We have hoped in him, and he will save us. This is Jehovah. We have hoped in him. Let us be joyful and rejoice in the salvation by him.??

“ Family of Annie Robertson,

At this time of family loss, be assured of our prayers. We share with you the knowledge that our God will comfort those that mourn, and also are thankful for God's promise of salvation and His soon return. God is faithful concerning His promises. You can rest upon His love and His plan of redemption. God understands our sorrow at the death of a loved one, and He will fill your hearts with the continued assurance of His love and care. We trust in God's love for the fulfillment of His promises.

“ Annie was a wonderful woman. She was full of life and always ready to help you with any problems that you had. I pray for her children, that they will always remember how beautiful and loving thier mother was, and that her caring nature will live on it each of them. I had not spoken to Annie in a few years, as happens way to often, we just lost touch, and I will always regret not keeping her a part of my life. When I read of her passing in the newspaper, I went numb, and immediately remembered all of the fun that we used to have and how much she had always been there for me when I needed her. Even though we had lost touch, I never thought of the fact that one day she would be gone and I would never get the chance to see her again. God Bless you, Annie, I am so sorry that I lost touch with you. To her children, who she loved so much, please know that even though she is not physically here with you, your mom is watching you from above, and you are never alone.

“ My heart goes out to Anni's children and the rest of her family. I still miss her mother, one of my best friends and I'm sure Annie did too. Annie and I went out a few times and I remember her full of life and sprit. I was right there in the room when Lyric was born. I know that God loved Annie.
