“ regina was the best friend i've had for twenty years. i've seen her go thru hard times and good times. but she loved whole heartedly no matter what. i will miss her and it saddens me but she got something noone expects, cancer. cancer can take someone and change them overnight. but it didn't change how she knew she was God's child. she set out to beat this with faith and by faith she was saved by grace. i will always love her and one day, by the grace of God, i will see her again! my prayers go out to her family for strength and understanding. i think of the family as my own. i love all of you very much. and i will always love you reggie, my best friend ever! God bless you. i will see you soon, til' we meet again my dear, save me a spot.....

“ Trish and I are saddened at the passing of Regina. Regina and I grew up together and I have watched her in every stage of her life. Like all of us, there were good and bad times. But through it all that girl was a fighter. She fought and over came many obstacles in her life. The last battle was with cancer. Some may think the cancer won but it didn't. She won! The reason I know is because I was at her bedside when she gave her life back to the Lord. With tears of rejoicing we celebrated. So I know that she has the power of God within her and it will conquer death in the end. She won. Regina, we loved you and hold dear all the treasured memories. 'Til we meet again....

Love,
Tim Estes
