My condolences to the family. I met Shirley when she was my neighbor at heritage heights. From our conversations I learned she made trips to Wichita Kansas with my parents to visit family members there while she visited her family there . May God give you all peace during this time of loss

“ Shirley once told me that when someone you know passes away and you can't make it to the funeral, try to at least sign the book because a while after her husband passed away, and she felt able to, she one day went through all the cards and the book and it meant so much to her to know how many people cared. She said at the time of her loss it was so hard, but later the cards and sign in list was priceless to her.

Here I am Shirley, signing in. Your wise words stuck with me, you were a wonderful woman. Rest in peace sweet lady.
