“ Feeling sad to know “Uncle Bud” as we called him, has left this earth. He was one Unique and Special Man, with his keen sense of humor and hardy laugh as he told his tales about life and his frank way of speaking the truth whether you liked it or not. He had the gift of being able laugh just as hard at himself as anyone and being fair in his dealings with others. One of his nephews is my Son In Law, so I feel sort of like a family member. Long before I ever knew the man I had a run in with him when I was around 7 years old and he worked for the city of Fayetteville. One of his jobs was picking up stray dogs, (dog catcher). On my way home from Jefferson School one day I noticed a truck setting beside the street with a homemade cage full of little dogs barking and yelping to be freed. I must of known it was wrong but I stepped up to the truck and lifted the latch and away they all raced to freedom. Boy Oh Boy. I was so proud of my good deed and promptly told my mother.....”Young lady your Daddy is going to tear you up when he gets home”! My Dad was a policeman who worked offen with Bud. I for sure never did that again and got a good sound scolding. Many many years later when Bud was telling one of his many tales over a Easter dinner gathering I confessed to my misdeeds and we had good laugh over it. He will surely be missed by many. Glad I got a chance to know him!
