

William Bellamy

August 18, 1924 - January 28, 2008

William Webster Bellamy, 83, of Siloam Springs, Arkansas, died January 28, 2008, at Siloam Springs Memorial Hospital, Siloam Springs, Arkansas. Born August 18, 1924 in Evanston, Illinois, he was the son of Joseph Marvin "Cap" Bellamy and Opal Smiley Bellamy. He was a Marine Veteran of World War II. Mr. Bellamy was a self-employed builder. He was a member of Sigma Chi and Rotary International. Survivors include two sons, Edward "Ned" Bellamy of Los Angeles, California and Ambassador William Markley Bellamy of Washington D.C.; one daughter, Elizabeth Anne Bellamy of Los Angeles, California; two grandchildren, Emma Chase Bellamy and William Edward Kimball Bellamy, both of Pretoria, South Africa; one brother, Bruce Bellamy, Boise, Idaho; and one sister, Beverly Denebeim of San Francisco, California.

Inurnment will be at Oak Hill Cemetery, Siloam Springs, Arkansas.

Tribute Wall

SL

“ We met Bill when my daughters, Sonja and Jenny, and myself would visit the Siloam Springs Nursing and Rehab Center to visit my Mom. He was delightful and we loved his stories and his sense of humor. We spent many days talking with him on the patio area. We felt an attachment toward Bill and my daughters were very fond of him. When my family remembers Bill it is with great joy and a sadness that he is gone. He brightened our lives.

Sandra Long - September 19, 2012 at 11:29 AM

TA

“ It was an honor and privilege to have known Bill. He was my friend and I will keep his witty humor & sly smile in my heart always. I will miss him.

Teri A.

Teri Attaway - September 19, 2012 at 11:29 AM

DC

“ So Much of a personality like my fathers. One of a kind guys & not everyone can take the time to understand. I will miss him.
DC

Doris & Kenneth Childers - September 19, 2012 at 11:29 AM